Illinois Only Woman Mayor Served
Through Civil War With Husband

Chicago, Mich. 30.—If the mayors of Illinois municipalities, now in convention at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, do not rise in their might for patriotism it will not be because there is no mayor among them. Mrs. A. R. Canfield, mayor of Warren and the only woman mayor in the state, told yesterday how she went "to the front" back in the '60s and did her bit.

"And I'm ready now. I'm not so old that I can't help some. My boys are not afraid. We've got one boy in the navy now. And if we break out to war, I will send a lot of them."

Joined Husband's Regiment.
"I was a bride when the war of the rebellion started and my husband went to the front. I wanted to be where I could look after him."
"So I set myself to work and one day my husband found I was attached to his regiment as 'superintendent of mess.' That was down in Nashville,

Very Clever and Artistic Display of Easter Clothing Shown.

Vaile & O'Malley's show window has attracted much favorable comment, for the indeed the display the firm has arranged and the artistic manner in which the window has been dressed prove excellent taste and real ability on the part of the decorator. A landscape scene, back of a vine and flower entwined fence, with miniature marble walks and street pavement form the background for a pleasing display of the firm's fine offering of Easter clothing. The window is well worth a trip to the business part of the city expressly for that purpose.

GERMANY IS READY
FOR WAR WITH U. S.
SAYS PARTY LEADER

HEAD OF CATHOLIC CENTER PARTY MADE BELLICOSE TALK IN REICHSTAG.

ENTENTE THRONES TOTTERING

Affirms Every Monarch Is Wavering On His Throne—War Rests With United States.

(Associated Press)
Berlin, Mich. 30.—During the debate in the reichstag yesterday, Dr. Spahn, leader of the Catholic Center party, said the monarchs of all of the entente nations are tottering on their thrones, and that even the Italian throne is unstable. He said that if it comes to blows with America, Germany is ready.

Berlin, Mar. 30.—If war comes between the United States and Germany, the blame will not be Germany's.

This was the burden of a statement made in the reichstag by the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, in the course of a lengthy speech on the international situation, dealing chiefly with Germany's relations with the United States and with Russia.

There was nothing conciliatory in his remarks regarding America; nothing which in any way could be interpreted as the remotest "feeler" for modification, arbitration or mediation. A notable feature of his statement was that he spoke invariably of the "American nation" and the "German nation," not once referring to the "imperial government" or the "government of the United States."

Says Germany Doesn't Want War.
He asserted that Germany never did nor does now desire war with America, and that she never had nor has she now the "slightest intention to attack the United States."

He reiterated that unrestricted U-boat warfare was forced upon Germany by the British blockade. He pointed out, using the English words, that President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing themselves had called the British blockade "illegal and indefensible." Germany, he said, waited eight months for the United States to make England observe the laws of humanity and international agreements.

"Then," he continued, "we took unrestricted submarine warfare into our own hands. Then we had to do so for our own defense."

Throws Sop to New Russia.

With regard to Russia, the chancellor told the reichstag that Germany does not propose to lend her assistance to any movement that might exist to bring czarism back to power. Nicholas Romanoff, he said, had brought upon himself his own downfall. He might have averted it, said Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, had he heeded the advice of Emperor William to devote himself to the internal reforms so eagerly clamored for by the Russian people. Instead of taking this advice, the chancellor said, the former czar insisted upon his program of external expansion. The speaker added that this Russian greed for land was what caused the European war.

DISCOVER HUNDRED
MINES IN CHANNEL

MANY VESSELS, INCLUDING AMERICAN, SAVED BY BRITISH DESTROYER.

GERMANS PULLED DOWN FLAG

(Associated Press)

(Without Date).—When the members of the crew of the German submarine which shelled and sank the American freighter Algonquin without warning March 12 went aboard to place bombs on the vessel they lowered the American flag, according to Captain Nordberg, who with 25 members of the Algonquin's crew have arrived in an American port on the liner Orduna. The crew was denied aid by the submarine captain, although 65 miles from shore.

The Orduna was three days overdue because she had been stopped off the Irish coast by a British destroyer and ordered to the nearest port while the North Channel was swept clear of hundreds of mines which had suddenly been discovered.

Twenty-seven other ships, including one American vessel, had already escaped the mine peril by putting into the port. Two other ships struck mines and were sunk.

The Orduna brought five American airplane experts home to develop this country's aerial service. The men have been in France.

AROUSE PATRIOTISM
OF DIXON PEOPLE IN RALLY MONDAY EVE.

BIG DEMONSTRATION TO HELP RECRUIT CO. G AT DIXON OPERA HOUSE.

AN APPEAL TO AMERICANISM

Prominent Speakers, Band Music and Parade All to Help Cause.

Dixon is to have a patriotic demonstration.

With the government asking for a full company of militiamen from Dixon, and the local company still lacking 60 or 70 men to complete its ranks to war strength, Lieut. Preston, recruiting officer, has appealed to the citizens of Dixon for aid in filling out the ranks of Co. G.

To Hold Meeting.

In response to this appeal for troops, the Chamber of Commerce directors met today and decided to hold a big "patriotic meeting" in Dixon at the opera house, on Monday evening of next week.

There will be several speakers, whose names will be announced later, as well as band music and possibly other features appropriate to a patriotic demonstration.

The committee from the Chamber of Commerce which is to arrange for the meeting is composed of W. B. Brinton, O. H. Martin, Edw. Vaile E. N. Howell, W. C. Durkes and A. P. Arnalington.

Opera House Donated.

The committee approached Mr. Rorer, manager of the opera house and the family theatre, and that gentleman told them he would furnish the opera house for Monday night absolutely free of charge for the good of the cause.

Band and Parade.

Tentative plans for the evening include a band concert and a parade on the streets of the business section of the city early in the evening, prior to the meeting at the opera house.

The addresses which will be delivered by the various speakers will be of a patriotic nature. It is hoped the enthusiasm which will result from the meeting will induce enough young men to join Company G to fill out its ranks.

In Other Cities.

Many other cities, including Sterling, Freeport, Rockford, etc., are holding or have held such meetings with a view of filling out the ranks of their various militia companies and the meetings have been quite successful.

MOST OF WILSON'S
ADVICE IS FOR WAR

PRESIDENT HAS VIEW OF LARGE PART OF COUNTRY AND CABINET.

GETS MANY PEACE MESSAGES

(Associated Press)

Washington, Mich. 30.—President Wilson has before him the recommendation of his principal cabinet advisers and in a general way has heard the sentiment of the country.

A preponderance of the opinions sent to the white house is for a declaration that a state of war exists between the United States and Germany.

Telegrams advising the president have been received in large numbers and many, couched in identical language, favor the maintenance of peace.

Cabinet Expects War.

At the cabinet meeting today with the president for the last time before congress assembles Monday, the consensus of opinion was that the United States was about to actively enter the war against Germany. Many members of the cabinet who are also members of the Council for National Defense, reported that everything possible is being done to coordinate all the resources of the nation for the government in case of war.

Senator Willard Saulsbury of Delaware, president pro-tem of the senate and one of the President's closest advisers and advisers in the upper house, arrived in Washington and declared for immediate and aggressive action.

"The United States should immediately declare the treaties existing between this country and the German empire to be abrogated because of the repeated gross violation of their every convention," said Senator Saulsbury. "These violations are evidenced in the taking of American lives, in the sinking of American ships, as well as in the denial of the freedom of the high seas to American commerce."

"Assuming that a state of war exists, there should be no hesitation on the part of this government in making war to end the war," continued the senator. "An expeditionary force is necessary for sentimental reasons if for no other. Meanwhile the government might agree to arm, equip and sustain a million French soldiers until our own force can be made ready."

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the committee on military affairs, said that he will make an earnest effort to secure President Wilson's endorsement for universal military service.

Dixon Soldiers Expect Camp Rules To Be Strict And Penalties Very Severe

(Special Correspondence)
Arsenal, Rock Island, Mich. 28.—This will be a short letter as we just arrived on the Island this afternoon and there will not be much to write about. We left Dixon at about 11 o'clock last night and laid over the rest of the night in Sterling, sleeping in our car. Scarcely any of the boys realized that the train had stopped, as we were all tired and were asleep soon after leaving Dixon.

We left Sterling at 5 o'clock in the morning, had lunch about 5:30 and reached Rock Island at 9 o'clock over the C. B. & Q. We were marched over to the Rock Island armory where we left all of our equipment and were taken back to a restaurant for breakfast. After taking up our equipment again we were marched over to the Island where we have been stationed.

The afternoon was taken up with putting up tents, carrying lumber for tent floors, putting them down, filling bed ticks with straw and getting organized for duty. We did not go on duty today, therefore we do not know much about it, except that it will be guarding the shops where military goods are being manufactured. We expect the rules to be strict and the penalties severe.

Charge Bigamy.
The most interesting of the new cases filed recently was instituted yesterday by Attorney John E. Erwin in behalf of Mrs. Wilma Stanley of Dixon, who seeks a divorce from her husband, Prof. H. C. Stanley, who is now serving a sentence for bigamy in the Chester penitentiary.
Readers of the Telegraph will remember the disclosure of Stanley's double life which resulted when Mrs. Stanley No. 2 came to Dixon to interview wife No. 1 at her home on West Second street, as was published exclusively in this paper at that time.
Stanley was at one time an instructor in the Dixon College and it was while here he met, wooed and wed his first wife, the marriage taking place Feb. 24, 1904. Four years later the family left Dixon, going to Missouri, where Stanley taught, and later moving to Decatur where he secured a chair at Milliken University. While in Decatur it was thought best that Mrs. Stanley move to Dixon, to reside with her mother, the removal being made because of the children, of whom there are three, and the custody of whom the wife asks. While in Decatur Stanley married another girl, whom he later deserted. He was apprehended in Missouri last fall, was taken back to Decatur and convicted of bigamy, and is now serving the sentence in the penitentiary imposed by the court in January.

A TIP FOR UNCLE SAM IF WAR COMES
(By United Press)
London, Mar. 5.—(By Mail)—Britain's army kitchens today are supplying enough glycerine, formerly wasted, to produce the cordite necessary to fire ten million shells a year. John W. Hope, chairman of a military committee on waste, made this statement to the United Press today. England has been teaching herself and her allies efficiency in a great many ways and some of the most important reforms have been introduced by the military representatives who deal with the use of waste bones and fats from the camps. "The fat contains about 10 per cent glycerine; and this is sent to the Ministry of Munitions. It amounts to 1,100 tons of glycerine a year. We can supply the government with glycerine at the pre-war prices of $297.50 a ton, while glycerine in the United States is quoted at $1,200 a ton. "We pay $150,000 a month to the various units, each receiving its individual check, which goes a long way toward providing extra comforts for the men." The system has been extended to the base of the camps in France, and also the navy, which in the past used to pitch its waste overboard.

Haircuts.
A haircut is one of the few indignities that baldheaded men do not have to suffer.
It's a habit, the haircut is, among men with densely populated heads. It's a habit a man has to hire another man to practice for him.
There are fashions in haircuts, as in everything else. The old fashioned haircut circled the base of a man's brain and stopped. But today it goes on down the back of his neck to see what his collar bone's doing.
Generally speaking, the haircut is a misfortune. If it wasn't for haircuts we could abolish barbers.

Mrs. Lee Dysart, Mrs. John Crabtree and Miss Grace Crawford spent a few days in Rockford shopping.

Rev. A. B. Whitcombe will go to Rockford tomorrow for the day.

Starved Rock and Deer Park

An excellent paper, delving deeply into the history of the romantic region including Starved Rock State Park and Deer Park, was written by Mrs. F. X. Newcomer and read recently before the members of Chapter A. C. Illinois P. E. O. Dealing with a region so near, the article is all the more vitally interesting, and the information it contains will add to the delight of a summer day visit to that region. Through the courtesy of Mrs. Newcomer the article is given below:

The old world does not stand alone in the universe of legendary lore, nor is it the only source of our romantic inspiration. Our own country is filled with those phases of human activity which stimulate the imagination, both in history and in poetry. Everywhere, ungarnered material can be found which will form the basis for poem and song, rough and unshaped but ready for the poet and singer.

One of the many spheres or areas of romantic inspiration in the United States is the Starved Rock and Deer Park region of the Illinois. In this region to have the tale of the early French explorer and the lost empire of New France. In order to better understand the legends about our new state park and its romantic associations, it is necessary to give a brief outline of its history.

Geologically, the Illinois river was once the outlet of the Great Lakes into the Mississippi. When the Niagara river broke through the heights at Lewiston and formed Niagara Falls, the Illinois dwindled to a mere memory of a great water artery. The flood that once poured down into the Mississippi had carved its way through the hills into a deep, wide channel. When the waters receded, they left standing, bold and precipitous, a number of great promontories. Carved, as they were, from sandstone, they stood in bold relief from the rest of the high bluffs. Of these, Starved Rock was one.

Some few miles below the city of Ottawa, but on the opposite side of the Illinois, rises this immense cliff, peculiarly conspicuous for its isolation and inaccessibility. As steep on three sides as a castle wall, rising one hundred and twenty-five feet from the river, it is a circle in form, measuring 600 feet around, and contains a little more than one acre of ground. It is accessible only from the south side and is covered with trees and shrubs. To the east opens a wide gorge or ravine nearly 200 feet across, choked with foliage, a little brook creeping down through the rocky depths. On the other side is a wide valley.

From the summit, once attained, the magnificent valley of the Illinois is seen spreading out as far as the vision will extend, in a landscape of exquisite beauty. The river breathes sweeps along amid a number of heavily wooded islands, while farther away it meanders through vast meadows, until it disappears like a thread of light in the dim distance.

Across, and one mile up the river, is Buffalo Rock, larger and almost as picturesque, while along either side of the river are high elevations of a similar nature. Near it are the Big and Little Vermillion and Fox Rivers, and a number of small creeks, whose banks are heavily timbered with black and white walnut, elm, ash, hickory, maple, and sycamore. Quantities of glacial drift, consisting of clay, granite, and gravel boulders are found everywhere.

Especially fitted for man's habitation, this region was early the home of the mound builders, whose mounds and relics are found everywhere, and was also once the seat of the Illinois federation of Indians. These Illinois consisted of the Peorias, Moingvienas, Kaskaskias, Tamaras, and Cahokias, who formed a powerful confederacy. In summer they went as far west as the Dakota country to hunt. In winter they congregated near Starved Rock.

The great village near the rock was known to the French as La Vantum or La Vanta, "the washed," called this on account of the clean, sandy soil, washed here each spring by the river. This village, for ages the seat of the Illinois confederacy, was located west of the rock, south of the river, and furnished them with a winter home. The Jesuit Fathers found here a community of from three hundred to four hundred wigwams and of 8,000 souls. Here was fought the great battle between the Iroquois and the Illinois, and here also took place the desertion of the Illinois to the Iroquois of the Iroquois raids. Tradition has it that La Vantum was strangely deserted from time to time. This can be easily explained by the shifting aboriginal population, when they went—men, women, and children—on their summer hunts.

Kaskaskia, also one of their important villages of this time, has been confused with the newer Kaskaskia on the Mississippi. This is probably due to the fact that in 1700 the mission was moved to the river town of the same name.

The rock was first seen in 1673 by Louis Joliet and Marquette, two French explorers sent out by Jean Talon, Intendant at Quebec. They ascended the Fox River at the portage of the Wisconsin, and crossing, descended the latter to the Mississippi. They journeyed down the stream to the Arkansas and back up the Illinois into the Starved Rock country. About these two names hang the mists of romantic tradition and more especially about that of Marquette, who at the age of seventeen entered the Society of Jesus and became a teacher. Later, he chose foreign missionary career, and was sent to Canada in 1666. He devoted himself so assiduously to the study of the Indian languages that he soon mastered six of the root languages with most of their dialects, which became of great value to him. It was only for a short time that he was able to teach the Indians, for a continued illness obliged him to set forth on that return voyage which brought him to a lonely grave in the wilderness. He died at the age of thirty-eight, one of the noblest and best men whose names adorn the annals of the North west. The devotion of his savage converts is shown by the fact that they removed his remains and, casting the bones in birch bark, after a long and tedious journey up the Illinois and along the edge of Lake Michigan, they buried him under his own chapel.

FRECKLES

March Worst Month For This Trouble—How To Remove Easily.

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed they may stay all summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if othine fails.

SUFFERING CATS!
GIVE THIS MAN
THE GOLD MEDAL

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug is a sticky ether compound, but dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn, or callus from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

Ask Aid of Housewives

The local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, interested in securing a Lincoln memorial on the site of the old block house, ask again for the aid of the careful housewives of Dixon in saving paper rags and paper to be disposed of and the money again devoted to the memorial fund. Last year the D. A. R. saw that the material was collected and inasmuch as the team and wagon for collecting was donated it could be done freely, but this year the chapter would be out of pocket in hiring a wagon, so it is asked that those saving the paper and rags call a junk man and then devote the sum made from the sale to the memorial. Such moneys should be turned over to Mrs. Collins Dyar, Acting Regent, and Mrs. D. H. Law, chairman of the Centennial Memorial Committee.

Class Party

A very enjoyable class party was that held at the Methodist church Thursday evening by the members of Mr. Kleppinger's Sunday School class. As the class is to sing "The Palms" at the Sunday morning service, the first period of the evening was spent in its rehearsal under the direction of Miss Bertha Bennett. Later games were played, an excellent program enjoyed, the evening ending in the discussion of delicious ice cream, cake, wafers. Program numbers were furnished by Robert Anderson, who gave two vocal selections; by Mrs. Harold McCleary and Miss Josephine Llevan, who rendered two duets; Miss Clara Hasselberg, who gave two readings; and Miss Beatrice Beavers who gave a vocal selection, closing the program. The party was given particularly that the new members of the class might become better acquainted with those of longer standing, and vice versa. There were thirty-three present in all.

OBITUARY

ABIGAIL LYNN HASKELL

Mrs. Abigail Lynn Haskell, daughter of the late Lot and Sarah Lynn Chadwick, was born at Windsor, Maine, November 6, 1820, died at her residence in Lee Center, Ill., March 19, 1917.

In 1840, her father with his family consisting of himself, his wife and two sons and five daughters, emigrated to the far off western state of Illinois and settled at inlet, Lee County, Ill., near the present village of Lee Center.

Her life has been closely interwoven with the history of Lee Co. for more than three quarters of a century; coming here a girl of twenty, she married the late George E. Haskell, June 13, 1841, and settled amid the trials and dangers of the wild frontiers. January 27, 1843, their first and only child, Eunice Everett, was born, but their joy in the possession of the babe was short-lived as she died the 22d of April, 1843. During the early years of their married life Mr. Haskell filled many positions of public trust and Mrs. Haskell was a true and faithful aid to her husband in all of his works. June 12, 1867, Mr. Haskell died and since that time Mrs. Haskell has lived part of the time alone and the rest of the time having her sister Martha or brother Charles with her for company. During the past five years she has been in the care of Mrs. S. A. Sanberg, on account of being unable to get around on account of a fractured bone; she proved to be a kind and faithful nurse. During the war while many of our boys were at the front, Mr. and Mrs. Haskell displayed their loyalty to the old flag by aiding their families, who were left at home without the care of the husband and father. Mrs. Haskell has also been prominently identified with many public enterprises and has contributed freely toward them.

On Monday, March 26th, the funeral services were held at her residence; the body lay in the casket in the room where she had spent the last five years and was literally buried in beautiful flowers that were sent by loving friends and neighbors. The near relatives who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Beardsley of Brookfield, Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Watch of Galesburg, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Haskell of Pomona, Cal.; Hon. Eugene W. Walsh of Galesburg, Ill. Devotional exercises were in charge of Rev. H. E. Heyse and the music was in charge of Mrs. S. L. Shaw and a quartet consisting of Mrs. S. L. Shaw, Mrs. G. H. T. Shaw, Mrs. Joe Gray and Miss Della Aschenbrenner with Miss Ruby Gray, as organist. Hon. Eugene W.

CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, SICK, CONSTIPATED

Best for liver and bowels, bad breath, bad colds, sour stomach. Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.

FIGHT FOR BATTING HONORS PROMISING

BOTH AMERICAN AND NATIONAL LEAGUES HAVE GREAT CONTESTS.

SPEAKER, JACKSON AND COBB

By H. C. Hamilton

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Mich. 30.—Tris Speaker's sudden elevation to the heights of batting championship, sought for many years by Joe Jackson, is likely to precipitate one of the hottest battles in the American league dash for the top of the average list this year.

That Ban Johnson's or any other man's circuit ever saw Joe struggled along for years, cracking the leather on lots of baseballs and attaining dizzy batting heights, but Ty Cobb was always just good enough to pull out in the lead. Speaker came along, got set with a new club, and hit 'em so fast and often that Cobb was forced to look on from a rear seat, while Jackson merely hooked on in third place. Joe has issued his challenge for this year. He says the name once boasted by a president of the U. S. is going to be right at the top when Ban B. promulgates next summer's most important list in the lives of batters. Cobb may be second, or even Speaker may get that far, but he has served notice that Joe is going to ride the winning horse. Cobb also has made some passing remarks in which he intimated that there isn't going to be glory without a few sprints in the summer. He has set his eyes on that batting championship and wants it badly enough to stretch his legs hard for every blow. Cobb, so one story has it, was a very much disappointed peach when the last season was over and the customary Cobb was lacking at the head of the American league averages. He had acquired such a Ben Adhem habit that it was hard to let go. He was grieved and somewhat astonished to observe that it wasn't Speaker, who challenged him, but Jackson who challenged him, but Speaker, main cog in a machine that shouldn't have placed him that high. And just to keep competition, from growing stagnant and carrying all interest to the younger league, the National league probably will fling a little dust around in staging its battle for leadership. Jake Daubert, long recognized as king, didn't like it a bit when he was nosed out a year ago. He likes his hits perhaps better than any other club star in the game, so he promises to give Hal Chase, Roger Hornsby, Lew McCarthy and some other aspirants the climb of their young lives for John K. Tener's heavenly batting average. All around it should be a busy little season for the average fiend.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harrington of Route 3 were Dixon traders Thursday.

PRINCESS THEATRE

Tonight the Princess will present Allen Holubar and Francelia Billington in a five reel Red Feather entitled "Heart Strings."

This is the first five reel play produced by the young actor-director, Allen Holubar, who has been doing such fine things in both capacities of late. It is safe to predict that it will not be his last. The story is one of those tales of everyday life best described by the words "heart interest." From the beginning, which shows Joe as a child, to the end in which she takes her rightful place as the queen of the doctor's heart, we follow her history with breathless interest, and alternate smiles and tears.

"VERY GOOD EDDIE" THE HIT OF THE YEAR

Musical Comedy at Chicago Theatre Breaks All Records for Hearty Applause and Laughter.

Although Chicago waited a long while before it had an opportunity to pass its verdict on "Very Good Eddie" the musical comedy hit of New York, last season, the final arrival of the show, now playing at the Chicago theatre, proved that it was well worth waiting for. Not in many years has any musical production scored such an instant success and since the opening night the audiences at the Chicago theatre have been huge in size and irrepressible in their demonstration of pleasure and appreciation.

Every dramatic critic in Chicago praised "Very Good Eddie" in most glowing terms, thus agreeing with the verdict of the press in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, where the show was hailed as the smartest and brightest musical production in many years.

Every element that can possibly be calculated to give delight to an audience is to be found in "Very Good Eddie." The story and plot of the piece are unusually funny, and there is a score of the most delightful melodies, most of which have already been familiar, owing to their great popularity. The cast is the best ever selected for a musical production—the identical company which shared in the year's run of the piece in Broadway. And the beauty chorus is a revelation to Chicago, being composed of the most bewitching girls who can sing and dance, and they are costumed in the most fetching products of the Parisian modiste.

There are performances of "Very Good Eddie" every evening, with a $1 matinee on Wednesday, and a $1.50 matinee on Saturday.

The channel in front of the glacier was open. Blaine was the first to shake O'Neill's hand, for the members of Murray's crew held aloof in some embarrassment.

"It's a perfect piece of work," said he. "I congratulate you."

The others echoed his sentiments faintly, hesitatingly, for they were abashed at what they saw in their chief's face and realized that words were weak and meaningless.

Dan dared not trust himself to speak. He had many things to say to his sister, but his throat ached miserably. Natalie restrained herself only by the greatest effort.

It was Tom Slater who ended the awkward pause by grumbling sarcastically:

"If all the young lovers are safely ashore maybe you old men who built the bridge can go and get something to eat."

Murray smiled at the girl beside him. "I'm afraid they've guessed our secret, dear."

"Secret?" Slater rolled his eyes. "There ain't over a couple thousand people beside us that saw you pop the question. I s'pose she was out of breath and couldn't say no."

Eliza gasped and fled to her brother's arms.

"Sis! Poor little Sis!" Dan cried, and two tears stole down his brown cheeks. "Isn't this—just great?" Then the others burst into a noisy expression of their gladness.

Happy Tom regarded them all pestilentially. "I feel bound to warn you," he said at length, "that marriage is an awful gamble. It ain't what it seems."

"It is!" Natalie declared. "It's better, and you know it."

"It turned out all right for me," Tom acknowledged, "because I got the best woman in the world. But"—he eyed his chief accusingly—"I went about it in a modest way. I didn't humiliate her in public."

He turned impatiently upon his companions, still pouring out their babble of congratulations.

"Come along, can't you," he cried, "and leave 'em alone? I'm a dyspeptic old married man, but I used to be young and affectionate, like Murray. After breakfast I'm going to cable Mrs. Slater to come and bring the kids with her and watch her bedridden, invalid husband build the rest of this railroad. I'm getting chuck full of romance."

"It has been a miraculous morning for me," said Murray after a time. "and the greatest miracle is—you, dear."

"This is just the way the story ended in my book," Eliza told him happily—"our book."

He pressed her closer. "Yes, our book, our bridge, our everything, Eliza."

She hid her blushing face against his shoulder, then with thumb and finger drew his ear down to her lips. Summoning her courage, she whispered:

"Murray, dear, won't you call me Violet?"

THE END.

Timely Hints On Gardening

By U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

HOW TO GROW IRISH POTATOES IN VACANT LOTS AND YARDS

A Method of Reducing the Cost of the Seed When Seed Potatoes Are High Priced.

Washington, D. C., Mch. 28—Many persons prompted by the high price of Irish potatoes have written to the U. S. department of agriculture asking how to grow them successfully in their back yards or in their neighborhood. Others who in past have raised potatoes as a profitable way of utilizing idle land or as a crop which repays them, in whole or in part, for the cost and trouble of keeping down weeds and giving a more orderly appearance to their properties, point out that good seed potatoes are very scarce and high in price, and ask if there is not some method of reducing the cost for seed for their plots or half acres.

The cost of seeding, the garden specialists point out, can be greatly reduced if, instead of using a whole potato for planting, the gardener will cut out from potatoes cone shaped pieces of flesh, each containing an eye of the potato. In this way only one-fourth to one-fifth of the flesh of the potato will be needed to provide seed and the remainder of the potato can be cooked for table use. These cones range from one-fifth to one-seventh of an ounce in weight, whereas, under the usual method, the sets range from three-fourths to two ounces in weight. A gardener, under ordinary conditions, will get results by using 15 to 18 bushels, or 900 to 1080 lbs. of potatoes to the acre. This method of preparing sets, therefore, should make available for table use over 675 pounds of potato flesh which, under ordinary conditions, would be planted per acre.

To plant a lot 50x100 feet, or approximately one-ninth of an acre, at the same rate of seeding would call for 1 to 2 3/4 to 2 bushels of seed, planted in the ordinary way. The method of using the cones and eyes and cooking the remainder of the flesh, therefore, becomes a worth while economy even when a small area is to be planted.

Under this plan it is not necessary to prepare the seed all at one time. From day to day the cones for seeding can be cut from the potatoes as they are being prepared for the table. The cuttings should then be spread out on a piece of paper in a moderately cool room (about 50 degrees F) and allowed to remain there until they have cured, that is, until the cut surface has become dry. A day or two should suffice for this, and potatoes then should be put in a shallow box or tray and placed where it is still cooler. Any storage condition that will insure them against frost on the one hand and undue shriveling on the other should prove satisfactory.

These seeds can be started indoors, provided it is possible to secure suitable soil boxes. In such cases it may be desirable to plant the eye cuttings at once and allow them to start into growth indoors with the idea of transplanting them into the open ground when danger of frost is past and the ground is dry enough for cultivation.

Small Sets Require More Care. The smaller the size of the set, or seed piece, used the more thorough must be the preparation of the soil. The more finely the soil is pulverized and the more uniform the moisture conditions which can be preserved in the soil, the better is the chance for the small seed piece to establish itself. A small set in rough, lumpy, or dried out soil has little chance to live let alone make a crop.

Generally speaking the smaller the size of the set, the closer it should be planted in the row if the maximum yields are to be secured. Such sets may be expected to give best yields if not spaced more than 10 to 12 inches apart in the row.

LOST TRIBES OF ISRAEL

(By United Press) Berkeley, Cal., Mch. 30—The theory that the American Indians are members of the lost tribes of Israel was given added proof here today when Dr. E. W. Gifford of California university's anthropology department announced his discovery of similar rites and practices between the Kawaiisu Indians of the Kern river section and the ancient Hebrews. The Hebrews, according to the Bible, held that if a man died without offspring his brother should marry the widow and the firstborn of that union should be known as the dead man's child. The Kawaiisu Indians observe that custom.

DO IT NOW

Dixon People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, head aches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home.

Mrs. J. L. Fine, 1006 Peoria Ave., Dixon, says: "I suffered for years from kidney trouble. My headaches and dizzy spells, and that I had to stay in bed, I had head aches and dizzy spells and specks before my eyes. My wrists and ankles also swelled. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Prescott & Schildberg, successors to Leake & Bros. Co's. Drug store, and they helped me. They have never failed to give satisfactory results, when I have taken them since."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Fine had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FREIGHT INCREASES IN ILLINOIS GRANTED

5 Per Cent Advances Allowed in Some Cases.

CHICAGO, Mar. 30.

The Illinois public utilities commission handed down a decision in intrastate freight rates granting a 5 per cent increase on commodity rates on coal, iron and steel articles, live stock, powder and high explosives. The proposal by the railroads for a 5 per cent increase on class rates, including a maximum scale, was denied, as were the increases asked for on stone, sand, gravel, brick, tile and clay, agricultural implements, glass bottles and fruit jars, grain products, petroleum and products, packing house products, forest products, fruits and vegetables, cement and miscellaneous commodities.

The proposed change in rules governing weighing and reweighing, re-shipment and diversion and overloading cars is to be disposed of later by a supplemental order, as will be also the increase in commodity rates on straw.
